docs.wetransact.io/what-to-do-if-your-only-admin-has-left-the-company-no-access-to-your-microsoft-marketplace-listing

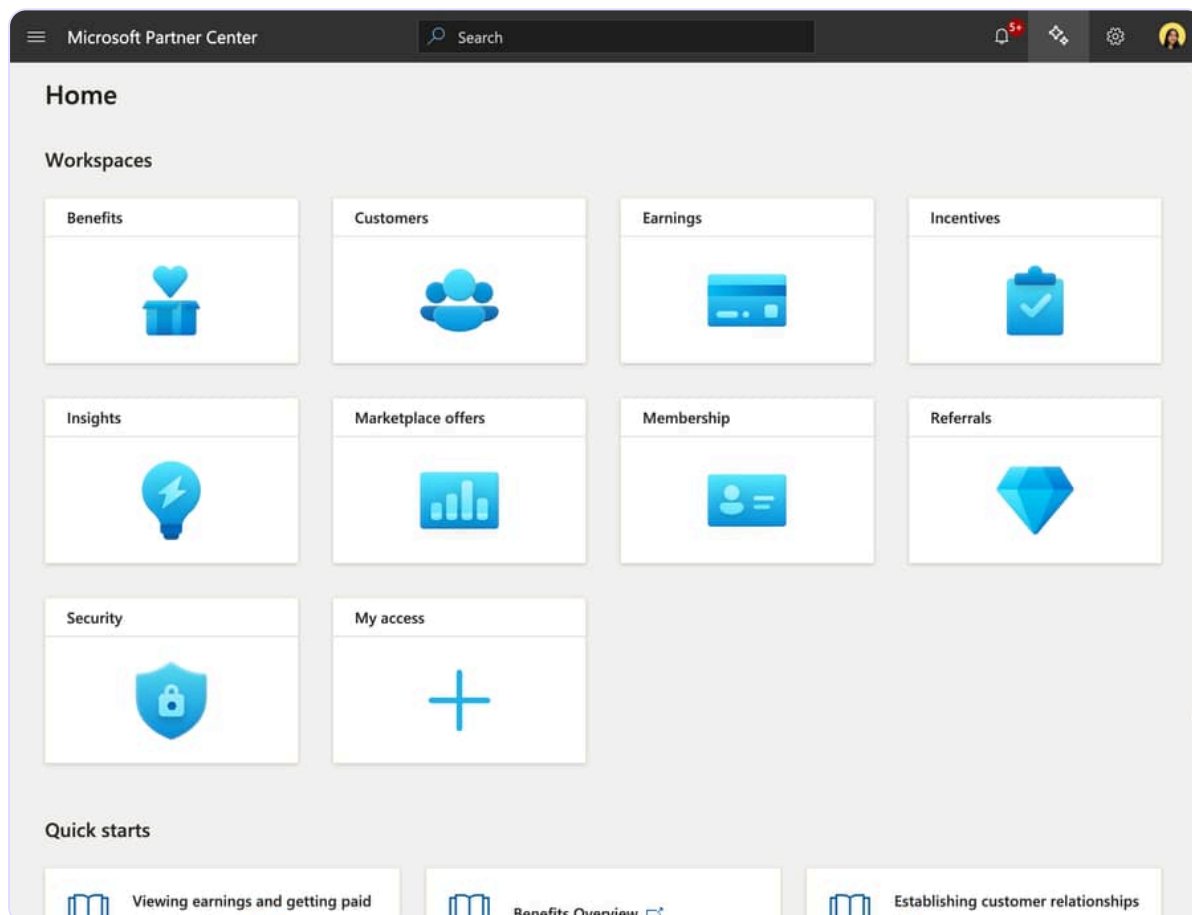

If you are unable to access your Microsoft Marketplace product listing because the global admin or original owner has left the company, this guide will help.

Start by identifying the current owner of the listing using this guide.

Start by identifying the current owner of the listing using the steps outlined below. If the listed owner is no longer part of your organization, you can request access by creating a Microsoft support ticket following this process. The Microsoft support team will update the owner user or global admin rights.

Sign in to Microsoft Partner Center (<https://partner.microsoft.com/>)

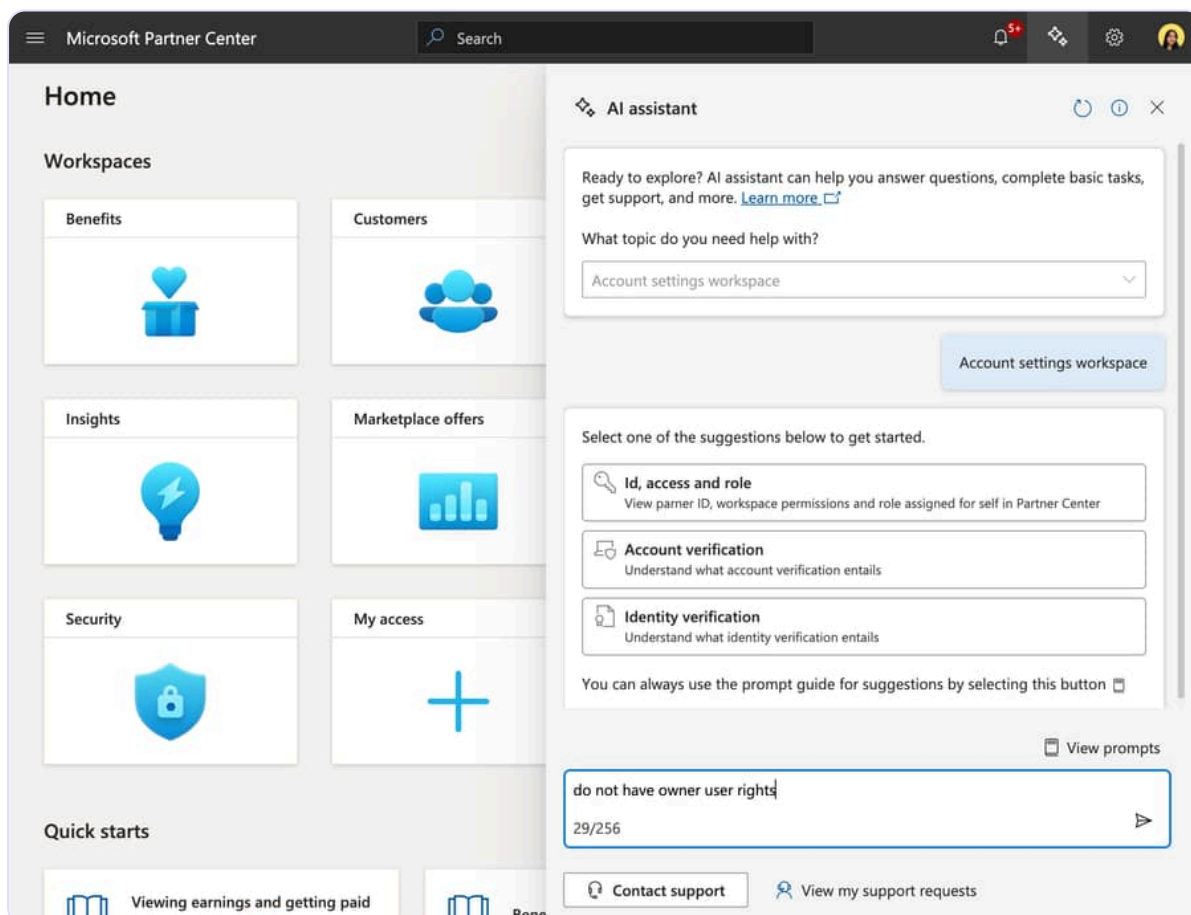

● Click on AI assistant and Support

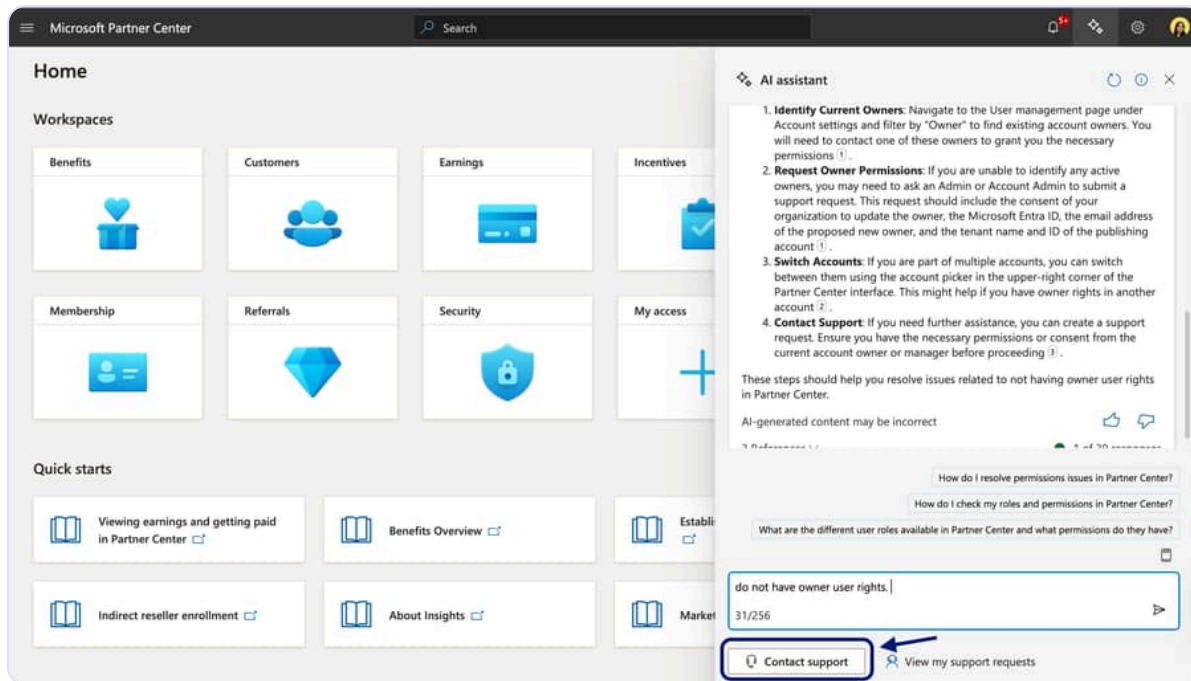

● Click on drop down menu and select 'Account settings workspace'

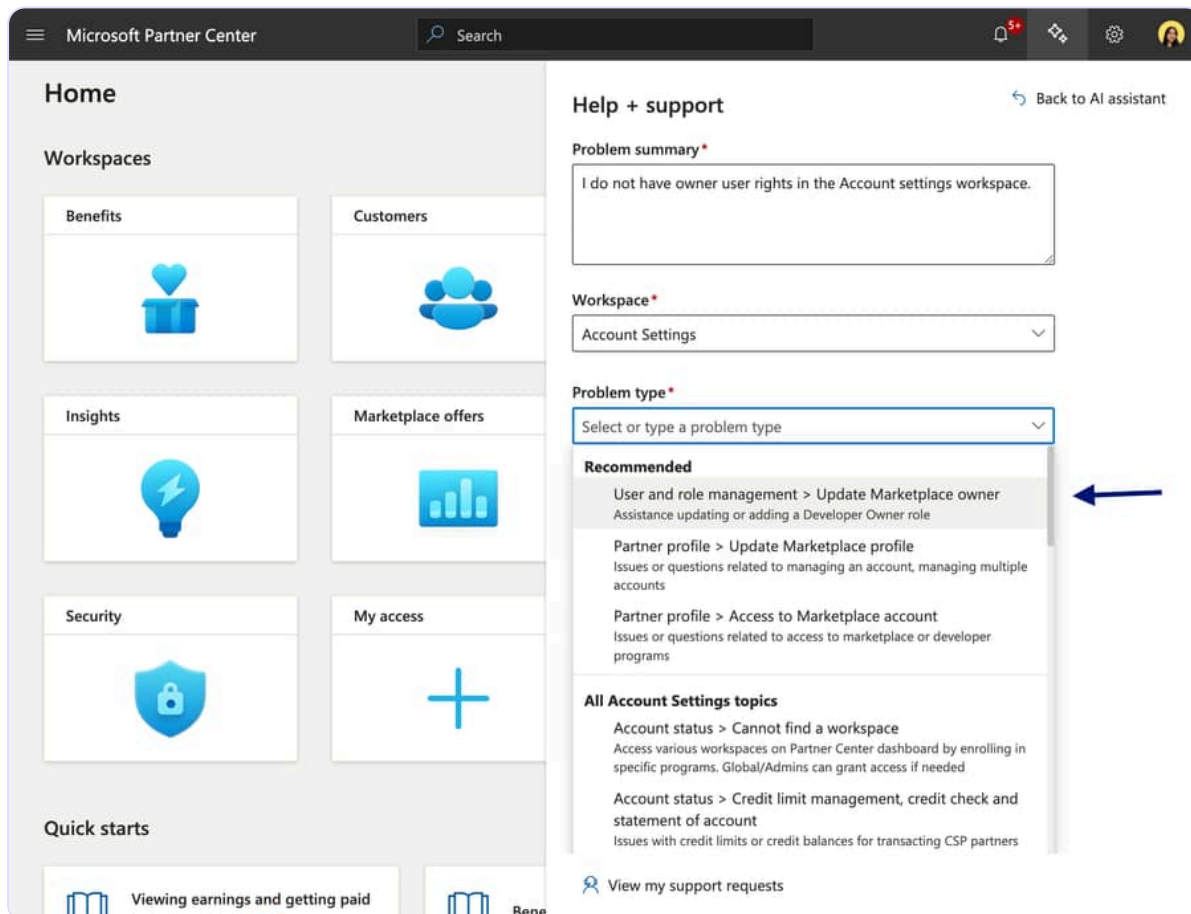

● In the box type the issue such as "do not have owner or global admin user rights" and press Enter.

Once it's generate the articles, click on Contact support

Under problem type select 'update marketplace owner' option

Click on Review Solutions

The screenshot shows the Microsoft Partner Center Home page. On the left, there are sections for Workspaces (Benefits, Customers, Insights, Marketplace offers, Security, My access) and Quick starts (Viewing earnings and getting paid, Bene...). On the right, the 'Help + support' section is active, showing a 'Problem summary' (I do not have owner user rights in the Account settings workspace.), a 'Workspace' dropdown (Account Settings), and a 'Problem type' dropdown (User and role management > Update Marketplace owner Rec...). Below these, there is a 'Browse topics' link and a blue 'Review solutions' button. At the bottom of the Help + support section, there is a link to 'View my support requests'.

Click on create support request

The screenshot shows the Microsoft Partner Center Help + support page. The 'Help + support' section is active, showing a 'Change topic' link and a 'Back to AI assistant' link. Below these, there is a 'Note: It's recommended to have at least two owners assigned to a seller account to ensure required permissions can be assigned if an owner leaves the company.' followed by a 'Request an update to your marketplace owner' section. This section explains that if you don't have any active owners in the seller account, you should ask the Admin or Account Admin to submit a support request with the following information:

- Consent of your organization to update the owner
- The Microsoft Entra ID:
 - Email address of the proposed new owner
 - Tenant name and ID of the publishing account
 - Both can be found on the Tenants page under Account settings

Below this information, there is a screenshot of the 'Account settings | Tenants' page, showing the 'Tenants' tab and the 'Microsoft Entra ID' field. At the bottom of the Help + support section, there is a 'Recommended resources' section with a blue arrow pointing to the 'Create support request' button.
